A Well Developed Form

A good set of muscles is one of the most excellent qualifications which any person can possess. There is no position in life for which they unite one, and there is none which they will not enable one to fill to better advantage than he otherwise could do. There are a thousand and one emergencies in life in which strong, vigorous, and well-trained muscles are of enormous service, and in which their use may be of incalculable value. Proper physical culture gives, not only increased physical strength, but greater dexterity, suppleness, and grace of movement. The person who walks with a shuffling, swaying, and awkward gait, does so, not on account of any original defect in his physical make-up, but through the weakness of certain muscles which, by disuse, have become unable to do their part in the act of walking, and so render him unable to perform it in an easy and graceful manner. The trained gymnast exhibits a lightness and elasticity of movement impossible to an individual who has not had the benefit of physical training at the

CHRISTMAS DAY ON MAUI

Sports and Entertainments for Holiday.

This Season's Orange Crop Biggest on Record.

Home Rulers Say They Have Bonds—Labor Plenty—Burglars at Work.

MAUI, Dec. 26.—On the morning of the 25th, Wailuku people had great fun with the "antiques and horrors" that paraded the length of the town, escorted by the local brass band. The popular costumes of the day were those of the tramp, con and clown. The musicians themselves had a rather difficult time of it. They were conveyed in a wagon devoid of springs, and an occasional heavy jolt now and then would knock the mouthpieces from their lips thus causing breaks in the harmony. Still they didn't mind it for everybody was having a good time.

About forty altogether appeared under mask or in costume and as a mark of popular appreciation it seemed as though the town's people en masse accompanied them throughout their entire march from the government stables near the court house to the railroad depot and back again.

CHRISTMAS SPORTS.

At Makawao on Christmas day the cricket game did not come off as expected owing to the non-appearance of the Punene eleven who were unavoidably detained. However the Makawao team "got in" a good practice game that will make them more formidable for the postponed contest that will take place at Paia at 10 a. m. on New Year's day.

In the afternoon at Paia the polo game between the "Reds" and the "Yellows" was not quite up to the usual standard by reason, so it was stated, of elaborate Christmas dinners previously indulged in by most of the players. The "Yellows" seemed to have the better of it by a goal or two. Harold Castle of Honolulu played with the "Reds."

BIG ORANGE CROP.
The orange crop in the Koolau (Hana) region is unusually large this season, though the fruit is somewhat smaller than is customary.

CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT.
Wednesday evening, the 23d, a large gathering of the district people attended the Christmas tree exercises at Maunaloa Seminary, Paia, which were a great success.

One of the girl students made a most excellent Santa Claus and the program which included music and recitation, was most entertaining.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.
Frank Gomez, a Portuguese resident of Huelo, will be taken today to the Honolulu Insane Asylum. Trouble with his wife caused him to lose his mind and to attempt suicide by smashing his head against some hard substance. When found there was a great hole in the top of his head and many severe bruises on his face. He could give no intelligent account of the affair. On Tuesday he was taken to Paia hospital where Dr. W. T. McConkey decided he must be committed to the asylum.

ALL HAVE BONDS.

Maui Home Rulers say that all the county officials have obtained bonds. Republicans say that if they have bonds they are not from any trust company. It is stated that D. H. Kahaleli, the county clerk, has obtained Judge J. W. Kalua and Enoch Johnson, Esq., of Honolulu for bondsmen.

LABOR WILL BE PLENTY.

BURGLARS AT WORK.
A gang of petty burglars have been at work in upper Makawao. Tuesday night they made an unsuccessful attempt to enter the Makawao postoffice store. The hinges of a board shutter to one of the windows were unscrewed and a pane of glass broken, but something frightened them away before they could enter the premises. About two weeks ago they broke a large pane of glass in one of the front doors of Awana's store, gained an entrance and stole about $9 from the money drawer. The police have been notified.

STRAY NOTES.

School Inspector C. W. Baldwin is spending the holidays at his home in Hailu.

Instructor C. E. King is in Honolulu but will return to Maui shortly after the vacation is over.

On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Baldwin returned to Maui from a trip to the mainland.

Miss Alice Thrum of Hilo is visiting Miss Fanny Engle of Paia.

During the 21st, the district and county Republican committees of Maui held a joint meeting in Kepoikali hall, Wailuku, W. F. Pogue presiding. Many political matters were discussed and plans for the next campaign talked over. It is thought that next autumn quite a number of young Portuguese and young Hawaiians will register and vote according to Republican tenets and thus overcome the Home Rule majority obtained at the last election.

Miss Moore of Oakland is the new assistant nurse at Paia plantation hospital.

Weather: Most delightful on Christmas day and all the week with the exception of Monday which was showery on East Maui.

A BRAVE MAN DIED AT SEA

When Samuel McAllister, fireman second-class, U. S. N., passed away on this ship at 11:15 Sunday night, the 13th inst., a life of long service to our country and flag was closed.

McAllister had been suffering some time from heart trouble and had been undergoing treatment for that ailment at the Naval Hospital in Yokohama, but was returned for duty shortly before we sailed for Honolulu.

His enlistment was to have expired tomorrow. He went to his post in the fire room without complaint but his condition was such that his strength soon failed and he was obliged to give up. He was about the decks Sunday until late in the evening when he was attacked by heart failure and carried to the sick bay where he died shortly afterwards.

The body was prepared for the deep and the impressive burial took place the following day.

All hands mustered on the quarter-deck; the colors were hoisted to the top of the mast and the band played "God Save the Queen." Colors were lowered to half mast and Ravenswood's Funeral March hushed every sound about the ship. Lieutenant-Commander Henry T. Mayo read the service for the burial of the dead at sea, interrupted by "Nearer My God to Thee" played by the band. Tears gathered in many eyes as the heavily weighted body was consigned to the deep. Three volleys were fired by a squad of marines, and the bugler sounded taps as the body which had served the country well, was sinking in its watery grave.

McAllister's early service was done in the army and at his death he was at the close of his second cruise in the navy. Although he had not yet received it, he was awarded a medal of honor and a gratuity of $100.00 by the Department on March 22, 1902, for bravery at Tien Tsin, China, June 20, 1900. He was serving on the Monocacy at the time; on the opposite side of the river lodged behind shacks and salt racks were several Chinese sharpshooters who were doing considerable damage to both Americans and English; although repeatedly driven away, they returned under the concealment of a corporal and two privates to face their fire and burn their shelter, which deed was accomplished at the most hazardous risk, and for which he was awarded the honor and remuneration which has been too long delayed.

McAllister was 34 years of age. He leaves a sister, Miss J. McAllister who resides at 129, 4th Avenue, New York.

Unless orders are changed the naval transport will resume her voyage to Manila via Guam at 4:30 p. m. today. The vessel worked all day yesterday discharging the stores brought for the fleet. It is possible that the Solace may not sail until tomorrow, but the officers expect that the original sailing orders will be effective.

THE RECEPTION DECORATIONS.

Lieut. Freeman of the Wisconsin was responsible for the unusually effective decorations used at the reception given by the officers of the fleet on Saturday night. Lieut. Freeman created a fairyland out of the old naval dock by the liberal use of palms which were secured from Hon. S. M. Damon, the Hawaiian Hotel and the Young Hotel. Then the battleship Oregon sent him the electrical rigging which was raised tent-like over the dock between the two battleships, forming one of the most effective decorations of the evening, and one which evoked the favorable comments of the guests.

BOUNTY ON SUGAR

Collector Stackable Receives New Ruling.

Collector Stackable has received the following order from the Treasury Department relating to export bounties on sugar produced in the Netherlands:

Treasury Department, Dec. 2, 1903.

To Officers of the Customs and Others Concerned:

In pursuance of the provisions of section 5 of the act of July 24, 1897, the following net amounts of the bounties paid or bestowed by the Government of the Netherlands on the export of sugars produced in that country are hereby declared for the assessment and liquidation of additional duties:

1. On raw sugar produced from beet roots, 1.75 florins per 100 kilograms of hard refined. (The output of refined sugar from raw is computed by deducting from the polarization of the raw sugar twice the glucose, four times the ashes, and 1 1-2 per cent for loss in refining.)

2. On sugar refined from beet-root raw sugar produced in the Netherlands, 1.88 florins per 100 kilograms.

3. On sugar refined from imported raw sugar, 1.3 florin per 100 kilograms, in addition to b-unty, if any, allowed on the raw sugar by the country of production.

The liquidation of entries covering sugars produced in the Netherlands after September 1, 1902, will be made on the basis of the bounties herein specified.

The foregoing is subject to the qualification that where it is shown in any particular case by the evidence prescribed in Department circular 105 of September 17, 1903 (T. D. 24668), that no export bounty has been paid no additional duties will be assessed under section 5 of the act aforesaid.

H. A. TAYLOR,

Acting Secretary.

RESTARTING ON KENTUCKY.

Bishop Restarick of the Episcopal church held divine services yesterday forenoon on the Kentucky in the presence of the officers and a large number of men attached to the battleship. The Bishop made a good impression on the men, delivering a forceful, manly address.

DIVED FOR SOLACE'S ANCHOR.

A boat of the naval transport Solace with diving apparatus aboard was taken out into the harbor yesterday between the Solace and the lighthouse, and a diver was sent down to the bottom of the harbor to search for an anchor which was lost by the naval transport when she arrived here on Thursday morning. The anchor was lost while the vessel was swinging in toward the wharf. The hook was located and will be raised later.

FAREWELL HOP FOR FLEET.

A farewell hop will be given this evening at the Alexander Young hotel in honor of the officers of Admiral Evans's fleet. It will probably be the last social function for the visitors who are scheduled to sail for the Asiatic station tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Manager Lake of the Hotel extends the same cordial invitation to society folks as he did for the reception and dance given last Thursday.

COMMENT FROM THE BADGER

The Christmas number of "The Badger" which has just been issued by the Wisconsin publishers is a very interesting paper. It contains several illustrations for which credit is given to the Advertiser. Among other items of interest the following is published:

The game between the Oregon and the Wisconsin last Tuesday resulted in a score of 14 to 0 in favor of the "Bad Dogs." The Oregon has a team which might probably be stopped by a good substantial stone wall, if it were built high enough.

The visit of the fleet to Honolulu has a two-fold purpose the value of which is difficult to estimate. It relieves the monotony of the crews serving for several years on the Asiatic Station, quieting that peculiar unrest which seems to attack the fleet generally and settles upon the men a renewed contentment which is of the greatest value to the Department. It has shown the Hawaiian people our ability to protect them should war menace their land and has taught the rising generation an object lesson of patriotism which will never be forgotten.

The entrance of the ships to the harbor makes a fact of what has always been a matter of but supposition and doubles the value of our Mid-Pacific Territory as a shelter for the largest warships.

The failure of the cruisers to receive answers to their signals from the cable station at Midway might, we think, suggest the necessity of having a few efficient signal-men detached there for service.

The quickness with which it was possible for the fleet to be brought into the harbor and the readiness of docks and coal shows the efficiency of the management of the Naval Station here.

The Honolulu people have seen a few of the sailors "idiosyncrasies" during the last week.

We owe a debt of gratitude to Prof. Berger and the Hawaiian Band, for the music with which they have honored us during our stay and to the Hawaiian ladies who lent their voices in the concert, on the dock, of the 17th inst. Their music was received by the ship with deepest gratitude and sincere thanks.

Editorials in various recent publications commenting upon the action of the Department in bringing the Asiatic fleet to this port, are very similar indeed to the story of the three blind men who went to "see" the elephant. "Each was partly in the right yet all were in the wrong."

Upstairs: "Fifteen two and a pair makes four," said Subbubs, who was playing cribbage with Poppley; "what have you in your crib?" "Ah," replied Poppley, absent-mindedly, "just the sweetest little outsums tootsums girl in the world."—Philadelphia Press.
